Slide 1 of 8

Speaker notes

Introduce yourself and the officers. Say what the chapter is for in one sentence, and that tonight ends with everyone set up to practice.

What we compete in

- Events: tests, role-plays, presentations and team events
- District or region, then state, then nationals
- Our goal this year: _____

Slide 2 of 8

Speaker notes

Show one example of each kind of event. Keep it short: students pick events next, and the event pages explain each one.

Pick your event

- Look up any event at compprep.app/events
- Not sure? Take the 1-minute event quiz in the app
- Tell an officer your pick by _____

Slide 3 of 8

Speaker notes

Encourage students to pick by what they enjoy: talking (role-plays), building (projects) or knowing things (tests).

How we practice

- 10 to 20 minutes a day beats a cram night
- Practice tests and flashcards for your event
- An AI practice judge for role-plays and presentations

Speaker notes

Say clearly that the AI judge is practice, not an official score, and that studying is free for every student.

A note about CompPrep AI

Dear parent or guardian,

This year our chapter uses CompPrep AI to help students prepare for competitions. Students practice with tests, flashcards and an AI practice judge for their events, and our chapter uses it for meeting check-ins, points and announcements.

It is free for students. Paid plans are optional and only raise daily AI practice limits; any purchase needs a parent's permission. The app shows no ads.

Privacy: CompPrep AI collects only what the app needs (name, grade, school, chapter and practice), never sells it, and never uses student work to train AI. It is for ages 13 and up. Students can download or delete their data anytime from Profile. More at compprep.app/parents and compprep.app/privacy.

Students can add your email to get a weekly or monthly progress summary: days practiced, minutes and scores, never their answers.

If you have questions about the chapter, contact me. Questions about the app go to support@compprep.app.

Thank you,
